Department of Information Technology

Orientation Program (2023-2024)

Program Objectives

The Department Orientation Program aims to provide students with essential information, guidance, and support to help them successfully adapt to the academic environment of the department. The program is designed to create a welcoming atmosphere where students can become familiar with departmental activities, academic expectations, and available resources.

The orientation session will help students interact with faculty members, senior students, and peers, enabling them to build meaningful academic and professional relationships. It will also serve as an opportunity for students to clarify their queries and understand the opportunities available for their overall development.

Our objective is to make students feel motivated, confident, and prepared as they begin their new academic journey. Students are encouraged to actively participate in the orientation activities and make the best use of the facilities and support systems available in the department.

Program Outcomes

- Introduction to the Department: Students will gain an understanding of the department's vision, mission, academic environment, and core values.
- Faculty and Staff Interaction: Students will get an opportunity to interact with faculty members and departmental staff for academic guidance and support.
- Academic Overview: Students will receive information about the academic curriculum, examination system, laboratory facilities, and departmental activities.
- Research and Development Exposure: Students will be introduced to ongoing research activities, technical projects, and innovation opportunities within the department.
- Rules and Regulations: Students will become familiar with important departmental rules, academic policies, attendance requirements, and code of conduct.

- Student Engagement Opportunities: Students will learn about clubs, technical societies, workshops, seminars, and extracurricular activities available for their personal and professional growth.

- Orientation schedule/timeline – 26 September 2023, 09:00 AM onwards.

- Faculty/staff involved - All faculty and staff members actively participated in the program.
